A Jewel in Long Island...

Friday night, i headed to 7 Gerard Street in Huntington, NY with my agent Rosie and photographer Ezequiel Delarosa to see a clients/friends new restaurant. Rosie and I felt like we could have been in any chic coastal restaurant anywhere in the world. The rustic and sleek 3 level restaurant called PORTO VIVO (www.porto-vivo.com) was all that and more! The menu had great small bites (Sauteed eggplant, spanish style grilled octopus, arugula/proscuito flatbread pizza) and for the main course i had mushroom risotto and a side of spinach, Rosie had a great half order (a nice idea) of gnocchi but more than enough for one and Ez had lamb with rigatoni stuffed with a lamb pate' by far his dish was my favorite the stuffed rigatoni could have been an entree alone:-)

A great addition to the evening was meeting Serena Williams and her sister (not Venus), what a gracious, beautiful young lady!

Take a quick 30-40 minute ride out of NYC an experience PORTO-VIVO!

xxoo,

D'angelo
